Falmouth University Chancellor Installation

On Thursday 26 March Redruth School's Samba Band, 'Samba Do Rio Vermelho', were invited to perform at the Installation of Dawn French as Chancellor of Falmouth University. The parade congregated on The Moor where the Samba Band were asked to perform before the procession to enthuse the crowd for the arrival of Dawn French. The Samba Band then led the procession of local school pupils and the university's academic staff through the Main Street to the church for the formal ceremony. During the ceremony, Dawn made an excellent speech which showed her true comedic character. She was even played out to the theme tune of the 'Vicar of Dibley'. Later that day, there was a fantastic clip of the Samba Band playing on the ITV local news. Well done to all involved!

Year 5 Science Saturday

Local primary school pupils had the opportunity to explore the Science Department on Saturday 28th March. They were delighted to have the task of creating their own solar powered boats. Working in small groups they were soon making friends with children from neighbouring schools and discussing their design ideas.

More Super Fun Saturdays coming soon!

Careers Fair

Sponsored by Ellis Electrical

The entire student population took part in a Careers Fair on the 24th March. Thirty five local companies attended and provided information and guidance about their industries. The event helped students begin to consider which jobs/industries may appeal to them and what they will need to do, academically or vocationally, to achieve their ambitions. Students took the opportunity to speak to local employers and ask questions related to their field of expertise. The event, which will run again next year, attracted a diverse range of businesses including: leisure and tourism, construction, engineering, computer science, film and media, technical services, the armed forces and Exeter, Falmouth and Plymouth Universities amongst others.

Year 8 student Sam said, "I had no idea there were so many different jobs to choose from. We are so lucky to have had this chance to speak to business people. They were very helpful and gave us lots of advice."

Louise Pellow, Head of Careers, commented, "It's important that we give our students every opportunity to fulfil their potential. Enabling students to make constructive choices within their education will support them in becoming successful individuals, who make positive contributions to their community."
