

Reading Practise

- Read aloud to someone

Tips

- run your eyes over the page before you begin to read.
- break unknown words into chunks to work them out.
(as a general rule - find the first vowel, add the letter after it and read that chunk and so on)
- when you come to a full stop, take a breath.
- take turns reading and listening/following.

- Check comprehension

Listener checks the reader's comprehension by:

- asking questions at the end of each paragraph or page.
- asking for a brief summary of what has happened.

- Points to remember

Get comfortable:

- *Make sure you can see well - glasses, overlay, lighting.
- *Make sure you are not thirsty or too hot.
